

Feb. 13, 2017 - Last Saturday UCI Club Sports hosted their first charity dodgeball tournament. Club Sports athletes and their guests were asked to donate food to Second Harvest Food Bank in order to participate in a friendly dodgeball tournament at the Anteater Recreation Center. The tournament attracted over 200 participants and collected 400 cans of food. “We’re really proud that the UCI Club Sports program was able to give back to the community and find a fun way for everyone to participate” remarked Adrienne Buckingham, UCI Club Sports Director. UCI Club Sports comprises 40 student-run competitive teams and 1500 athletes. UCI Club Sports is part of the UCI Campus Recreation department.

UCI Club Sports Athlete's participating in charity dodgeball tournament.